

Training Virtual leading – Lead effectively and successful in remote settings

Description

Because of COVID-19 pandemic working in homeoffice as well as time- and location-independent working has become the new „reality“ of work. Leaders and companies should therefore deal with the topic of virtual leading as leading becomes even more important with more flexible work environments.

In the training „Virtual leading“ leaders get to know tools and methods to lead effectively and successful in remote environments. The most important findings from research are shared and discussed. Based on the experiences of the participants actual challenges are reflected and practical improvement possibilities are developed.

In an online follow-up meeting one month after the training stumbling blocks in the transfer of the actions are identified and further solutions generated.

Your advantages

- Trainer with experience in leadership and remote leading
- Exercises and methods with high practical relevance
- Actual scientific research results on expectations from employers view
- Insights to crucial topics for virtual leading (master thesis)
- Exchange of experiences with other leaders
- Development of practical improvement options
- Online training
- Training in German and English possible
- Follow-Up to accompany the transformation actions

Price

€ 490,- (VAT not included)

Included in the price:

Training documentation and providing of the technical platform

Termine

The actual dates for German trainings you can find on my website dieentfalterei.at. For English trainings please contact me directly.

Registration and questions

Anja Ebenschweiger, +43 676 7171717, servus@dieentfalterei.at

Inhouse

For individual trainings in-house please contact me directly.

Anja Ebenschweiger
dieentfalterei